A.J., the mischievous narrator and resident troublemaker, finds himself in a particularly unusual situation when Mr. Hynde replaces his regular teacher, Mrs. Cooney. Mr. Hynde is a walking, talking spectacle, with his wild hair, mismatched socks, and a knack for turning every lesson into a side-splitting comedy routine.

From using a trampoline as a teaching tool to leading the class on an impromptu dance party, Mr. Hynde's unconventional methods leave the students in stitches. But beneath the laughter and silliness, there's a lesson to be learned: that sometimes, the most unconventional paths can lead to the most profound discoveries.

Gutman's writing is as sharp and witty as ever, filled with clever wordplay, laugh-out-loud moments, and relatable characters. The illustrations by Jim Paillot complement the text perfectly, adding an extra layer of humor and chaos to the already outrageous scenes.
