What is Dragonese?

Dragonese is the language spoken by dragons. It is a complex and ancient language, with a rich history and a vast vocabulary. Dragonese is not a single language, but rather a family of related languages spoken by different types of dragons. The most common type of Dragonese is the Common Tongue, which is spoken by most dragons. However, there are also other dialects of Dragonese, such as the Ancient Tongue, the Draconic Tongue, and the Shadow Tongue.

Dragonese is a tonal language, which means that the meaning of a word can change depending on the tone of voice used. There are four tones in Dragonese: the high tone, the mid tone, the low tone, and the neutral tone. The high tone is used to indicate questions, the mid tone is used to indicate statements, the low tone is used to indicate commands, and the neutral tone is used for everything else.

Learning to Speak Dragonese

Learning to speak Dragonese is not easy, but it is possible with the right resources and dedication.
