

James Tissot: 160 French Paintings by Daniel Ankele

James Tissot was a French painter and printmaker who is best known for his realistic and evocative paintings of Parisian life. Born in Nantes in 1836, Tissot studied art in Paris and quickly rose to prominence as a painter of society portraits. In the 1870s, he began to paint scenes of everyday life in Paris, and these works quickly became his most popular. Tissot's paintings are often characterized by their rich colors, detailed brushwork, and elegant compositions.

This book presents 160 of Tissot's most celebrated paintings, offering a comprehensive overview of his artistic career. The paintings are divided into four chapters, each of which focuses on a different period in Tissot's life. The first chapter, "Early Years," includes Tissot's early portraits and genre scenes. The second chapter, "The Paris Years," features Tissot's paintings of Parisian life, including his famous depictions of women. The third chapter, "The London Years," includes Tissot's paintings of English society, as well as his religious works. The fourth chapter, "Later Years," includes Tissot's final paintings, which are characterized by their more somber and introspective mood.

This book is a must-have for anyone interested in the art of James Tissot. The paintings are beautifully reproduced, and the accompanying text provides a wealth of information about Tissot's life and work. This book is a valuable addition to any art library.
